

GARSAL[™]
INDUSTRIES

Your Business Partner

GARSAL Industries partners with your business to save you time, money and labor managing your MRO consumables. This relationship, along with our extensive knowledge, expertise and superior quality products, assists your company with eliminating equipment failures and downtime in your daily operations. The services and technical support we provide are unequalled in the industry, assuring you that your critical operations continue running smoothly and without interruption. Any maintenance products supplier can deliver products and catalogs, but do they work as hard and as smart as you do? GARSAL does and we are committed to making your job easier and your business more successful.

Superior Quality Products

With over 30 years experience in MRO products, we know that product quality is of paramount importance. Using inferior or even average quality products, may fulfill a maintenance or repair job. However, using superior quality products gives you piece of mind that the longevity of the maintenance interval or repair will not become a premature failure or downtime issue further down the road.

GARSAL focuses on supplying your business with the right products for your company's individual needs. We provide hundreds of thousands of MRO consumables in ten primary product groups. Our products are tested and proven to be the best available. When businesses sacrifice product quality for lower price, it almost always ends up costing more in the long run.....often many times more!

Our VMI Programs

Vendor Managed Inventory (VMI) is critical for maintaining the correct, high quality products in optimal quantities readily available to keep your machinery, equipment and facilities running smoothly. Whether it is scheduled maintenance, urgent repairs or standard operations, GARSAL's VMI programs allow you to focus on your business and not have to spend time, money and critical resources chasing down parts in order to get your equipment up and running again.

We organize your tool crib inventories and storage equipment with bar code labeling for fast, easy location of parts. We utilize carefully managed min/max inventory levels to keep your inventory costs low without sacrificing parts availability. Additionally, we cover your critical needs and special parts procurement requirements with our on-site and on-call account technicians.
